In his letter, commendatory of the features of Jesses Johnson's alleged municipal home rule amendment, Seth Low says: "It undoubtedly is the true ideal that the city legislature should have full power in these particulars. On the other hand, it cannot be forgotten that one power after another has been taken away from the Common Councils of our large cities because these Councils have abused the powers which they once enjoyed. In other words, until such hodies show themselves faithful over a few things, it is not unreasonable to hesitate in granting them full authority over many things."

If Mr. Low is injulging the idea that a political State Legislature is likely to be say more "faithful over a few wore a few things."

Three Bails of Fire Explode During a Storm at Creede.

(By Associated Press.)

CREEDE, Col., Aug 9.—During a rainstorm last night, the sky became very vivid with electrical flashes, while thunder rolled in a most deafening way. With these accompaniments, what appeared to be three bails of fire, each as a large as a mainst two fists, struck the ground simultaneously within a radius of fifty feet.

As soon as they struck there was a shock and the the balls burst, throwing out innumerable sparks. The inhabitants experienced a great scare, but no damage was done.

Joseph Goodwin, twenty-five years > resert, where we were spending the evening, took advantage of my liking for him and klesed me. No deciaration of love followed, and he is now the same to me in every action and word as he was before the occurrence. I thought this kiss was preliminary to a declaration, or I should not have allowed it. I don't think it is at all right for gentlemen to set so. Is there any way for me to show my friend my disapproval of his action without actually referring to the matter? I should not like to do that. KITTIE.
